I feel like I've made a lot of progress since I've been here at Narconon. I feel like my mind is getting clearer. I'm noticing things that I never would have noticed before. I feel like I have real friends here. People really seem to care about me for what I am and not what I have. I've always cared for people I'm around and it feels good to be cared about in return. I never got that from my friends back home. I had a hard time here at first, but thanks to the people here, I think I'm going to make it. I'm so glad that I have this kind of help. I would have never thought that the smallest things could mean so much. I feel like this was the best thing I ever could have done for myself and for my family. At first I really doubted this place, but now everything is making sense and I think that this is a very good program. I know that I am going to make my life so much better by doing this. I owe it to myself, my family, and to the people around me. I've been on drugs for a really long time and it's time to stop using drugs. This is my success story for now and I'm sure I'll have more to tell later. Thank You Narconon.
